Death Takes 2 Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton

Death called Jessie Morton the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Morton Jr., Saturday, Dec. 4th after a brief illness of but a few days.

Apparently well Tuesday, the little one had spent the afternoon with her mother at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Otto Lanberg.

The following day she suffered an attack of tonsillitis, which resulted in an abscess of the throat that caused strangulation, according to the doctor's diagnosis.

Saturday morning the child was seemingly better with the exception of apparently swollen glands which caused no alarm when reported to Doctor Dairs of Deerfield who is the family physician.

Later in the day she was seized with a choking paroxysm and passed away before the doctor could reach her.

Mrs. Otto Lanberg who is a sister was with Mrs. Morton and the baby died in her arms.

Mr. Morton who was at work in Chicago was summoned but arrived home after the little one had passed away.

Funeral services were held at the home and the Congregational church. The Rev. Ivan Smith pastor of the church of which both Mr. and Mrs. Morton and their elder daughter are members, officiating. Burial was at Oak Ridge Cemetery on Roosevelt road.

The simple service of song and sermon brought consolation and comfort to the sorrowing hearts. The pastor's topic was "Immortality" explained in such simple phraseology that hope illumined the dark clouds of bereavement.

Eight high school girls, friends of the family carried their little friend to her last resting place and members of the Glenview school under Miss Norton's direction made up the chorus that sang "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

The many beautiful floral offerings bespoke the sympathy of a host of friends whose hearts went out to the little family so suddenly broken. Particularly at this season of the year does it seem hard to bear the cross of separation, but the happy smiles of little Jessie Morton will be a bright memory in the minds of those who knew her.

Eldora Morton was born June 1, 1924 and was the third child born to Joseph W. and Charlotte M. Morton. Because of her birthday she was called June and her mother's name was added to her name.

Her death was a great loss to the family. She was enrolled in the Grade Roll of the Congregational Sunday school and an attendant at all celebrations of that department and will be greatly missed in the holiday gathering of the babies.

Although but a baby herself she had a younger brother Calvin her home playfellow and the two Morton babies were much beloved by their friends. The older children are Ruby and Robert.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to these bereft of the little daughter and sister and a wish for a peaceful Christmas tide is extended to them.

Stamp Christmas Mail Carefully Says Rugen

Mail parcels early to insure Christmas delivery is the advice of all postal authorities, and do not omit the return address.

New orders have been issued relative to the use of Christmas seals in foreign mail. Use only the government stamps or letters and packages will be returned to the sender. As Christmas falls on Saturday insurance of mail delivery before that date depends upon early correct mailing.

Domestic mail may carry the Christmas stamps.

Hundredth Night Will Be Eastern Star Affair

Hundredth night for Glenview Chapter will be held in the lodge rooms Friday evening, Dec. 10th, at which time officers for the coming year will be elected.

Methodist Notes

The stores everywhere are telling us that this month of Christmas, at so much per. Let us not forget that this month represents something greater than mobs of tolling gift-purchasers and profuse decorations to stimulate sales. Jesus was born, on that first Christmas. Jesus has given us this month of joy and activity of love. Let us not forget him. This month will be worse than wasted if we do not better learn how to live. His spirit in our everyday lives, remembering that His Spirit is God's best gift to earth.

Plans for the dedication Sunday, Dec. 12, have been changed in the one particular that we are not to eat dinner at the church, but at our own homes, getting to the church afterwards at 2 p. m. for the ceremony. Remember that Dr. Whitechurch preaches in the morning, and that the new choir of young people will sing an anthem: "Praise Ye the Lord."

Remember
Christmas Pageant, Sunday night at 7:00, Dec. 19.
Christmas Cantata, Wednesday night at 8:00, Dec. 22.
Christmas tree and children's program Dec. 24, at 7 p. m.
Parsonage party for testing the social qualities of the new parsonage, Dec. 29 at 7 p. m.

A NEW KIND OF SPEECH

It is always a pleasure to report signs of progress. At a recent dinner in New York an innovation was presented in the form of a "speechless" speech. There were four addresses, which, however, instead of being delivered by their authors, were distributed to the guests in printed form.

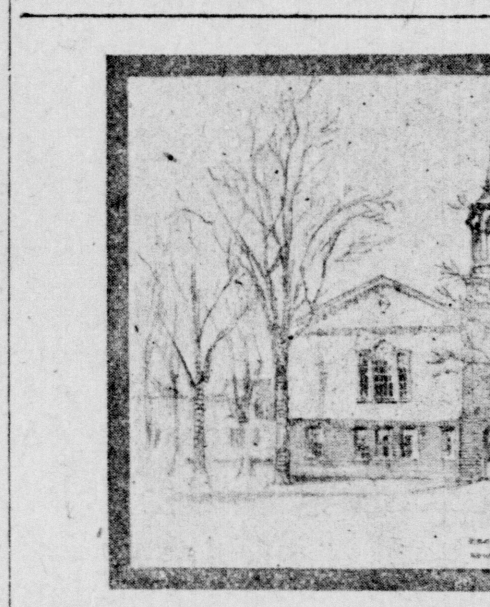

This is our idea of civilization of a high order. No stammering words, no mutual patting of backs, no boring jokes and no oratory of high order. What a feast it must have been.

YOUNG PREACHERS AND SMOKING

Of course it's none of our business but we would like to know why it is harmful for a young preacher to smoke while the older ones can go right ahead and indulge themselves in the enjoyment of the practice without doing harm. Probably we have the wrong idea about it, but it seems to us that the older preachers should set an example for younger ones.

High School Scouts Swim at DesPlaines

High school scouts of troop 7 will take a trip to DesPlaines next Monday night and disport in the tank. Most of them are ready to pass their swimming tests. New second class scouts include Wesley Knox, George Schaeffer, Fred Durni, Ed Adams, Clifford Belle and Walter Annam have passed their tenderfoot tests. Herbert Chidley has been made senior assistant scoutmaster and will take active charge of the Monday night programs. The scouts are subscribing to the Scout Magazine Boys Life, and suggest that parents can make no better or more appreciated Christmas gift than a subscription to Boys Life.

PROPOSED NEW M. E. CHURCH FOR ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

CHRISTMAS TRADE

Christmas has its spiritual side, which deserves and receives attention annually not only in pulpit and press the world over, but also in the hearts and minds of millions of believers in the mission of the Child who was born amid such depressing surroundings more than 1,900 years ago in Bethlehem of Judea.

It has its material side too, for around the celebration of the great Christian festival there has grown up a custom of sending greetings and gifts which gives an extraordinary circulation of money. Manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, transportation agencies, telegraph companies, postoffice department, all benefit by these outward manifestations of the Christmas spirit, which thus discharges a most ordinary function in the body politic. The cheapest Christmas card or the most ordinary toy gives away from the factory to the recipient.

According to statistics which have been somewhat hastily compiled and may in consequence need later revision, the festival approaching will be responsible for something like a $5,000,000,000 outlay on the part of the public of the United States. Postal receipts are higher than ever before, arising from the greatest movement of letter and parcel mail on record. Bank clearings have been phenomenal, and the federal reserve board reports reflect the quickest turnover of merchandise stock in the history of the country.

These are all signs of national well being which there is no gain saying. That the nation is pressing steadily forward to an era of unexampled prosperity is clearly revealed by the magnitude of the volume of the Christmas trade.

THE BANK'S SERVICE

Banks and business men are beginning to realize that the general public is in need of a better understanding of the functions of banking in relation to the interests of the average individual. The public should be made to understand that banking is just as much a part of its daily needs as are grocery stores and trolley cars.

The bank is woven in the fabric of everyday existence, so that it is the lifeblood of our social and economic advance. The function and purposes, and in many cases the practices, of banks and financial institutions often are misunderstood or not accurately comprehended, through a lack of knowledge of the reason of their existence, and a lack of understanding of the part they play in the life of the community.

The great extension of the credit system and the payment of bills by checks and drafts as well as the financing of large business and other enterprises, has given the banking business a new meaning even to the large number of persons who do not make use of the banks for their own personal convenience and the safety of their money.

IT IS A SHAME

Somewhere, sometime, someone with much brevity and little reverence took the splendid word Christmas and mutilated it by spelling it "Xmas". And since that time a lot of non-thinking, busy imitators have been taking the charm and beauty out of the word and mangling it to suit brevity and convenience. It is sacrilege. It is poor taste. It is almost blasphemy. When an ill-favored letter of the alphabet is allowed to stand in the stead of the name that is greatest in Christendom and stands for the best translation of the Creator's relation to his children, it is time for Christians and purists to rise in indignation and say: "No more of it!"

Pity the couples who court in couples. In the summer they fight mosquitoes and in the winter they nearly freeze.

Morton Grove Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boettcher had their infant daughter christened Jeanette Frieda Anna Boettcher Sunday Nov. 28 by Rev. O. Heidtker. Sponsors were Miss Emma Huser, Mrs. Frieda, Sonnet, Mrs. Boettcher and Miss Clara Sonnet.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gabel had their little daughter christened Leona June Gabel, Thursday, Dec. 2 by Rev. O. Heidtker. Sponsors were Mrs. Leona Bausman and Mr. Philipp Bausman.

The Heidtker family are quarantined for scarlet fever. Three of the children are sick with it.

Mrs. Thomas and infant daughter are home from Lake View hospital. Mother and daughter are getting along nicely.

record for public improvement work in the village.

The Fred Huser residence, recently moved from its location at Dempster street and Austin ave. to the corner of Crain street and Austin ave., in the Brizzolara subdivision, is in the process of being so completely remodelled that even old neighbors do not recognize it. Mr. Huser is adding a large living room with artistic fireplace, and the entire residence will be brick-faced and a handsome addition to the many newer homes of the village.

Mr. Milton Kurtz, the local druggist, has one of the most attractively decorated places of business in our locality with special holiday trimmings and stock. Otto Frank's home windows have blossomed forth with their annual display of toys and holiday goods. Christmas and New Years decorations are appearing in other stores of our community. The next step will be the Christmas wreaths and other holiday indications in the windows of the home, and after that when the Christmas tree appears in the park, we will know that the great day is just at hand.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Ladies' Night

Ladies' night, Monday, Dec. 13. You and your friends are cordially invited to attend the second Ladies' Night to be given by the Niles Center Chamber of Commerce in Landerer's Picnic Grove Pavilion. Time, 8 p. m. sharp. Program, buffet luncheon, a good speech, music and dancing, first showing of Niles Center's own movies, vaudeville, surprises (secret).

Admission is 50c a person. The Chamber of Commerce is paying for most of the costs of this party. Admission charges will not cover half of the entertainment costs. You'll miss something if you fail to be there promptly at 8 p. m. Miss this at your regret.

Lone Occupant of Car Has Close Call

During the heavy snow storm Saturday night, Henry Lejune of 2153 North Carlo avenue, Chicago, drove his new Hupmobile into the side of the C. M. & St. P. train No. 66 which was pulling over Irving Park Boulevard. The car struck the 90 car train about mid ways and was dragged about 200 feet when the train parted stopping it. The auto took fire and was entirely destroyed while a passenger caught fire from the wreckage. Bensenville fire department was called at once and were able to save the train from burning. Mr. Lejune was alone in the auto and when rescued was hurried to Dr. Oaks office where it was learned that only a few minor scratches were received by him in his accident. The auto had just been purchased and the owner had not had it insured yet. Cases where autos run into the side of moving trains are increasing and we see no way to curb this kind of an accident only for drivers to get the habit of stopping their car at every railroad crossing before passing over it. In this particular case the driver no doubt intended to stop if there was a train on the crossing but failed to slow up in time to stop his car as the paved road was very slippery from the snow that was falling at the time. Drivers too often fail to take into consideration the conditions that surrounds them and overlook the fact that a car will not stop as quickly on a slippery track as it will on a hard dry road bed. At any rate Mr. Lejune was lucky to come out of the accident no more hurt than he is.

150 People Dine, Dance And Make Merry

The home of Mr. and Mrs. August G. Finke in North Leyden township was the scene of a gay and festive crowd of relatives and friends who were invited to celebrate the marriage of their eldest daughter Miss Alice Finke to Mr. George Grischoff son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grischoff. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. G. Flassman, pastor at St. John's Evangelical church at 4 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 4, 1926.

The bride looked charming in a pretty white silk beaded gown with dress and long tulle veil. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Mabel Schmitt cousin of the groom was maid of honor. She also wore a white georgette and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. Miss Ruth Hall was bridesmaid. She wore a white crepe de chine dress and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Violet Finke sister of the bride was the little flower girl. She wore a white dress of chine dress and carried a basket of chrysanthemums and carnations.

Mr. Elmer Finke brother of the bride was best man. Mr. Frank Hall was usher.

After the ceremony the young couple went to a DesPlaines studio and had their pictures taken and then returned to the bride's parents home where a bountiful supper was served to about 150 guests. Then the party adjourned to the public school house where both young and old danced to their hearts content to music furnished by Mr. Malhauer & Son's of Niles Center.

We would like for somebody to figure out a system that will enable the man of ordinary intelligence to keep up with his bank account.

Niles Center Topics

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krell did not stay long in the Abnink flat on Floral ave. They have moved to a farm on Telegraph road near Wm. Teufert's farm.

Mrs. Mittelstaedt and daughters, Alma Klehm, Mrs. Edwin Klehm and Misses Ide attended the North shore theatre Wednesday evening and say it was one of the finest programs they ever had the pleasure of seeing. The marvelous performance of Ouida and the seals in a glass tank is wonderful.

Mr. Geo. Landeck had his automobile smashed on account of taking it out on the icy pavements.

Watch for Niles Center Mercantile Company's adv. in our next issue. They have a guard display of toys and Christmas presents.

St. Paul Ladies Aid will hold their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, Dec. 16, instead of the usual time on account of the Christmas preparations for the children's service.

Jeanette Bertha, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schaub was christened Sunday, Dec. 5 in St. Paul's church. Sponsors: Mrs. Bertha Schaub, Lila Adams, and Christa Pfeiffer.

The mother of Mr. Martin Lindemann, who has been very ill, we are glad to report is improving.

Mrs. Emma Harter and Miss Alma Klehm spent Sunday p. m. visiting Mrs. Nora Stahmer at Park Ridge, formerly of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. John Jarmuth and two daughters and Dr. A. L. Klehm were some of the guests of Mrs. Harvey at Oak Park Saturday. They enjoyed a fine turkey dinner and later played "500".

Miss Minnie Franz entertained at cards Saturday night. Luncheon consisting of a variety of tempting foods was relished by the ladies after the games.

Mrs. Henry Remke, Sr., who has been in poor health a long time was reported Wednesday to be failing, not being able to recognize anyone.

Forty-four persons, mostly from Niles Center attended a party and dance given at the Waukegan Inn, Thursday night, Dec. 2. A chicken dinner was part of the program. Herman Kenning furnished the music on his concertina.

On her return from the quilting party at Mrs. H. Remke's last week, Mrs. J. J. Mayer hurt her foot when a piece of ground gave way as she stepped down from the auto.

Mr. Martin and his wife of Norwood Park were reported killed at Bensenville, Ill. crossing shortly before midnight, Dec. 2 when an express train struck their automobile. Apparently the woman was killed instantly and the man died before reaching a hospital. The bodies were brought to Haber's undertaking parlors, Niles Center where they were held until identified. Their son, a young man about nineteen was stunned by the unexpected sad news and greatly excited when he came with a friend to our village to find the undertaking parlors and identify his parents. The express trains going to Mundelein and Milwaukee travel at very high speed and its well to stop, look and listen twice before crossing the tracks.

Mr. Adam Harter and daughter Mrs. Little have both returned from Portland, Ore., where they went to visit Mrs. Eliza Condon, recently bereaved of her husband. Mrs. Condon was ill in bed more or less of the time during her stay. The worry and care of her husband during his long trying illness has left her in a very nervous state and besides she seems to have some trouble that is affecting her eyes somewhat. Mr. Harter did not like the winter weather in Portland as it is gloomy and rains much of the time, he says they had no frost.

Earl Rossman had the misfortune to have both bones in his right forearm broken all the way across, not just cracked, when a truck he was trying to crank back failed, last Friday morning. He surely is a plucky lad. His sister had to take him to a doctor. She could drive a car, but did not understand gear shifting so he told her how to work the clutch while he shifted gears with his left hand.

While Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kaiser of Morton Grove were at a party the night of Dec. 2 a fierce looking man came to the window of their home and demanded admittance. His mother and little son were there alone. She grabbed the child and screamed so the neighbors came. Later she and the baby were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Klehm as she was afraid to stay in the house alone for fear the man might return and harm them.

Mr. John Brod is here on a short visit and business trip, having arrived, Dec. 1. The change of climate from balmy Florida to our raw weather does not agree with him and he plans to leave soon again. There are a number of people who would like to go with him to the sunny south and leave old winter behind. Miami and Coral Gables have practically cleared away the damage done by the storm and are in a better position than ever before to take care of the big winter tourist population. Damage to large trees and palms will take time to replace, but smaller vegetation will quickly bloom forth again in its charming beauty.

St. Peters Evan. Church

Willing Workers monthly meeting Tuesday, Dec. 14. They are rejoicing over their successful bakery and apron sale. They plan to arrange for another one soon.

PALATINE

Mr. Henry Freeman returned to his home in Nebraska after spending two weeks here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Freeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Senne left for Florida this week. They will spend the winter at Melbourne Beach.

LaVerne Mummert has returned to her home after a six weeks vacation visiting relatives in Iowa and Kentucky.

Mrs. Ed. Sutherland of Kansas is spending some time here with her sister in law, Mrs. Emma Matthei. She came to attend the funeral of Mr. H. C. Matthei.

Mrs. Ed. Neagle was pleasantly surprised Monday evening, by a number of friends. The evening was spent in playing cards.

Mrs. Wesley R. Comfort and son spent a few days this week visiting her mother, Mrs. E. Roth of Chicago.

Mr. Young returned to her home in Chana, Ill. Tuesday.

Wm. Hartman and family have moved into the upper Swanson flat that was vacated by Edwin Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Greener attended the funeral of an uncle at Naperville, Monday.

Miss Grace Beutler is on the sick list.

Ed. Webers are expecting to move into their house in Washington Highlands soon.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing on the north side again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stroker were hosts to the bridge club Tuesday evening.

The Brotherhood of St. Paul's church had the weather against them last Tuesday evening, but those who attended their supper had a number of surprises. The supper itself was as good as all suppers are at the St. Paul's church. However, it appeared that the men were endeavoring to "go the ladies one better" in the size of the helpings and the amount of food that was placed before each diner. The surprises were three. First, was the head waiter in the person of Mr. Dan Bergman, who was attired in a full dress suit and with courtesy escorted the visitors to their respective tables. The second surprise was the waiters themselves, and the arrangement of the tables. The waiters, all members of the Brotherhood wore duck coats and the service was fast. For years the ladies have always supposed that tables had to be set straight with the world. It devolved upon the men to set the tables in straight lines from the kitchen door, thereby enabling every waiter to reach his table with out turning a corner. The third surprise was the orchestra. They were very liberal with their music and it was greatly appreciated. It is a safe bet that the next time the Brotherhood gives a supper, the church will not be able to hold all who will come.

Palatine people had the privilege of hearing in the orchestra at the St. Paul's church Tuesday night, Herman Seivers, cousin of the Schoppes. Mr. Seivers has only been in this country seven months and is today second chief in the John B. Murphy hospital. Herman has adopted Uncle Sam as his foster father and enjoys this country. He makes frequent visits to Palatine.

Mr. Joseph May, of Chicago, who is in the local hospital with 187 gun shots in his arm has many callers. Among them the past week was Grover Cleveland Alexander, of base ball fame. Another was Mr. Smith, manager of the Lincoln Park Gun Club. Mr. May is doing very nicely.

Ed. Brockm who lost a thumb at the Creamery Package plant at Arlington Heights has completely recovered.

Daddy Grobecker's Swiss Yodelers will appear at the M. E. church Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid.

The Palatine Lions' will move their den to St. Paul's church next Monday. Their Christmas party will be held Dec. 30th, and the ladies will be invited.

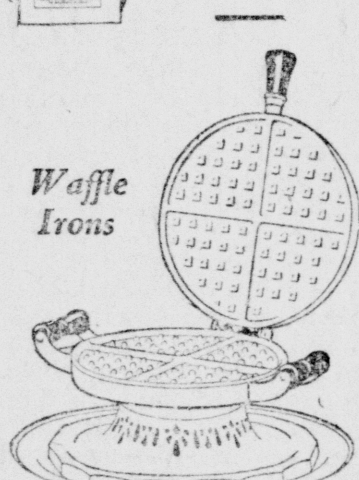

A number of prominent doctors have visited the Palatine hospital the past week, among them, Dr. Fisher of the Mayo clinic.

Have the Christmas spirit and vote for Theodore Sternberg in the contest at Schroeder's Pharmacy. Mr. Sternberg is ill, confined to his home two years and a radio will be greatly appreciated by him. This suggestion is made by a local business man.

Special reduced prices at the new shoe store from now until Christmas. Many useful Christmas gifts. Hartmann's, in the Gielow Bldg., Palatine, Ill.

The Palatine public schools will close for the Christmas vacation on Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, and resume work January 3. This will give all the teachers an opportunity to get home for Christmas Eve.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS OF PALATINE CHAPTER, EASTERN STAR

Annual meeting of Palatine Chapter No. 585 O. E. S. this Friday evening.

If by chance any member of the chapter has been missed in the solicitation of donations, they are asked to consider a personal request. All articles brought to the booths will be appreciated. The complimentary dinner for members only will take place next Thursday evening. The children's party will be Saturday, Dec. 18th.

J. V. Parsons is the latest employee in the Kruse garage. There are now four mechanics employed there. Gordon Heise is salesman. New purchasers of Nash cars are B. T. Duncan, Chas. Barbas, C. Elncke and Henry Volkening.

Palatine received this week its first car of automobile engine oil ever shipped in. The Gauges were the dealers who purchased the shipment. The railroad company could not think it was possible that the shipment was intended for Palatine and first sent it to Arlington Heights.

Walter Deverman and Elmer Weniger visited Ted Donkin at Drexel Arms Hotel, Chicago, Monday evening. Mr. Donkin recently had his leg amputated as a result of an auto accident in Pennsylvania.

R. J. Scheer of Crystal Lake was a Palatine visitor over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stroker of Wauconda attended the Brotherhood supper at St. Paul's Evangelical church Tuesday evening.

Members of Sutherland Womans Relief Corps are requested to bring canned fruit and jellies to the home of Mrs. Elnora Foster this week to be sent to the North Chicago hospital.

Mrs. I. M. Kuebler and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Goodknecht and son Russell were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuebler Sunday in Chicago to a family dinner.

Mrs. Millie Dapkers and Anna Rhode spent Monday in Chicago.

Mrs. G. H. Arps entertained the St. Paul's Ladies Aid quilters Monday at her home.

Mrs. Margaret Tarnau spent Wednesday in Chicago.

Mrs. Jennie Wilson is still on the sick list.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the prizes that are being given away at the Schroeder pharmacy. The demand for the vending slips has been great. The prizes range from a radio to a doll. The standing of the contestants will be posted from time to time in the window.

Fred Blume was called to Minnesota Wednesday by the serious illness of his sister.

A car of crushed stone, the gift of Mayor Danielson and Mr. Gaare has placed the roadway of Hillside cemetery in excellent condition. Mr. Olms has also donated a lot for a roadway, whereby there is now a connecting road between the two cemeteries.

There are several advantages of buying a radio of Schlenker than in Chicago. Radios need occasional service as much as do autos. Harry is always here to render that service. The Chicago dealer does not even know that Palatine exists. By the way, Schlenker has two attractive Christmas windows. He is doing his part to attract people to Palatine to do their trading.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Sampson Wednesday, Dec. 5th.

The Palatine Lions' will move their den to St. Paul's church next Monday. Their Christmas party will be held Dec. 30th, and the ladies will be invited.

A number of prominent doctors have visited the Palatine hospital the past week, among them, Dr. Fisher of the Mayo clinic.

Fire was discovered at 4 o'clock last Wednesday morning at the Clover Leaf dairy plant on North State street, Marengo, and before the fire department could respond to the call for help the whole interior of the building was in flames. The cause of the blaze is unknown, as there was no one in the building or no fire that anyone knows of.

The Sunny South would go on all right if it were not for those storm tails switching around this way.

ROSELLE

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cox entertained ten friends from Bloomingdale, Roselle and Elgin Thursday evening, Dec. 2.

Mrs. John Gieseke, Sr., spent a few days last week at her son Arthur's home in Mount Prospect. A large crowd attended the Trinity ladies aid bazaar and turkey dinner Thursday afternoon and evening. Many beautiful home made articles of fancy work were displayed and a delicious dinner served at the new school.

Mrs. Wm. Chucas, Mrs. R. H. Gerber and Mrs. Lewis Cox played

500 at the Charles Brendell home Wednesday afternoon.

At the annual election of the Trinity A. L. L. Friday evening, Dec. 3, the following members were elected to offices for the coming year: Louis Haberkamp, president; Otto H. Bokelman, vice president; Miss Clara D. Becker, secretary, (re-elected); and E. W. Gieseke, treasurer, (re-elected.) Miss Dorothy Kobusch, Mrs. Otto Bokelman and Louis Benhart were elected trustees for the ensuing term.

F. Lundeen and family have moved from Roselle to Chicago where they expect to make their home in the future.

H. B. Schmidt moved the first of the week into his new home in the Sunnyside addition to Roselle.

Miss Ruth Roloff was injured in an accident at the skating pond Monday evening. She and Edwin Gieseke collided on the ice and one of the edges of Mr. Gieseke's skate cut through her shoe and made a severe gash in her ankle. Miss Roloff is able to be around and will suffer no serious result from the injury.

Those who expect to be members of the proposed Town Guard practiced their target shooting Tuesday afternoon in a field outside the village.

Kleinschmidt's confectionery is stocked up with their usual enticing display of Christmas confections and novelties. Many stores in the village display unusually attractive Christmas decorations at this time and are a constant invitation to the residents of Roselle and vicinity to "trade at home."

Miss Irene Bentley has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lytle Streisinger in River Forest several days.

H. B. Schmidt, manager of the Farmers Elevator attended a machinery convention in Milwaukee during this week.

OBITUARY

Anson Root Baldwin was born in the town of Cuba, Erie county, New York, on Feb. 7, 1835. This remained his home until at the age of eight years, he moved with his parents to the newly opened country in Illinois. The trip was made in a covered wagon, a two weeks journey through an Indian-infested country.

The first home stop was located on the shores of Lake Michigan, where they lived two weeks. But the low, swampy land was filled with ague, and they moved to Wheeling on the Des Plaines River. Here they lived for three years, when in 1846, they again moved westward to the town where the old homestead now stands.

Their log cabin was the only house north of the railroad and south of Deer Grove. Twelve children were born at this place. Always a strong republican, when the call came for volunteers for the Civil War, Mr. Baldwin, with four brothers, enlisted and remained in the South until Peace was declared.

At the close of the war he returned to Palatine, only to find it his duty to make a home for his parents and two sisters, and although studying law, gave this up and worked the farm.

On Aug. 29, 1885 he was married to Maryette Mercie Castle of Grand Rapids, Mich., bringing her a bride, to the old homestead where they lived for nearly 50 years until her death, Feb. 22, 1915. Four children were born to them, Edwin, Ernest, Elode, Mrs. C. H. Patten and Edna, Mrs. Henry S. Heise, all living at present in Palatine.

He was active, able to care for himself, driving his horse each day to the village until his 90th year. Since then he has been confined to his invalid chair.

For 39 years he was an active and consistent member of the First M. E. church of Palatine, and for a number of years acted as S. S. superintendent and Bible class teacher.

He died on Dec. 3, 1926, at the age of 91 years, 9 months and 22 days.

Interment was in Hillside Cemetery. Rev. Stauffer officiating. Mr. Baldwin was one of the early members of the local Odd Fellows lodge. The lodge was instituted April 20, 1882 and Mr. Baldwin became a member June 15 of that year.

Col. W. L. Hicks Dies in St. Paul

Col. W. L. Hicks, an old resident of Palatine and a civil war veteran, died Thursday morning at his daughter's home in St. Paul.

Thrifty People Will Paper Room Now

The Arlington Heights Paint Store say that there is no reason why their place of business can not be as busy in the Christmas season as a department store, if prices will have anything to do with bringing people into their place. A few nickels, a dime or two, and a brush is all that is needed to repaper that room you have been thinking about redecorating for sometime. The Arlington Paint Store will furnish the siding, ceiling and border paper, including the paste and a yard stick for exactly $2.69. A display adv. in this section tells about it.

Lucy's Birthday Party

Lucy is a year older. She hadn't really anything to do with it at all. She just became a year older.

It was because of the days and the moments and the hours which kept mounting up until a whole year had passed by since her last birthday. And so Lucy became a year older.

Her birthday started early in the morning. It started before she woke up, but then no one counts the part of a birthday that is spent in sleeping.

She got two pretty birthday cards in the mail during the morning. She got a ten-dollar bill from a dear old neighbor who was celebrating his eighty-first birthday.

Lucy kissed him eighty-one times and gave him eighty-one hugs, and that makes a good many kisses and played Games. It started before she woke up, but then no one counts the part of a birthday that is spent in sleeping.

Inside Information

THE SENATE'S FIRST JOB

The seating of Vane, of Pennsylvania, and Smith, of Illinois, will present a problem to mean much in the life of the nation. It will determine whether our democracy is holding its own or retrograding.

In our opinion, one of the first things which the new senate should do would be to announce in no uncertain language that neither of these men, who bought their way in, shall be allowed to keep seats thus purchased.

The Democrats ought to be able to keep these two men from deserting with the aid of the insurgent vote, and here is one occasion, at least, where the closest sort of coalition between them will be justifiable.

Neither Vane nor Smith are wanted in the senate by the better classes of voters in their respective states, and one of the chief reasons for protest against them from the electorate arises from the fact that it was necessary for them to spend such enormous sums of money in order to get themselves elected.

They literally bought their way in and they should be made to trek home dejected from a body of honorable and respectable statesmen.

It will afford a sort of a test of our present-day institutions which we sincerely trust may not be weighed in the balance and found wanting. If these two men are allowed to take their seats by the incoming senate, there will be many in this nation who will find that their respect for that body will be greatly lessened.

THE PLATYPUS IS, BUT WHAT IS A PLATYPUS?

What would you call a "thing" that has thick brown fur, webbed feet, a duck's beak, an otter's body, no teeth, a spur on its heel, lays eggs like a bird and feeds its babies milk?

There isn't such an animal? Indeed there is—and many thousands of them. They swim in the rivers of Australia, tunnel like an American mole and line their nests in the ground with soft grass—just like a bird would do. When their eggs are hatched, the young ones are placed in a pouch on the under part of the mother's body, and while in that pouch they are fed with milk like many little domestic animals with which we are well acquainted.

This unusual freak of nature is called a platypus, or sometimes the duck-billed platypus on account of the shape of its beak. Although its feet are webbed, it has strong claws which aid in its burrowing, for it sometimes tunnels through the ground for forty feet or more before making its nest. The mouth of the tunnel is under water, but a second tunnel is burrowed to the surface of the ground so that escape may be made in either of two directions.

One could almost call the platypus a mammal or a bird, but it is really more nearly a reptile than either. It is one of nature's most pronounced freaks.

BETTY BARCLAY'S WEEKLY RECIPE

Eat greens as much as possible, now that they are obtainable. Later in the winter some of those that may still be at the corner store may be purchased only by women in the larger cities—and only at very high prices.

The minerals and salts of such foods as cabbage, lettuce, peppers, celery and cauliflower are needed by our bodies, and it is well to store them up now while these foods are obtainable. Here is a little salad that will prove very pleasing and is very beneficial:

Just why Christ's birthday should be profaned by persons spelling it "Xmas," is hard to understand.

The Japanese Way

Drinking tea is one way the Japanese have of embroidering the stuff of nature and making life interesting. The Japanese even have a "Holy Scripture of Tea," which directs exactly how tea shall be made so that "each leaf should fold like a mist rising out of a ravine and be wet and soft like fine earth newly swept by rain." Centuries ago a Japanese named Rikyū founded the tea cult and wrote an elaborate code of tea etiquette that is unchanged to this day.—Tea and Coffee Journal.

When David Met Poppy Gale

By JANE OSEBORN

DAVID TRUE had hit upon the idea of spending his summer in the suburbs. His business in the city had succeeded past his fondest hopes. But any sort of prolonged vacation would have been difficult for him to manage with business demands his close attention in the city. Still summer might be pleasantly spent in one of the better sort of suburbs.

So it was that David True leased for three months a charming house of Spanish architecture belonging to a bachelor architect who was passing the summer in Europe.

What happened next was not at all what he anticipated. He fell in love with Poppy Gale, whom he first met at a dance at the country club to which he had been inveigled by a bachelor acquaintance. Poppy was there with her usual circle of masculine satellites. She was dressed in a cool green frock with a wreath of green leaves round her short-cut wavy hair and looked, it seemed to David True, like a woodland dryad.

He promptly joined the circle of satellites and competed with them for dances, and was in fact a little surprised at the good nature the others showed in letting him have dances that she had already promised them. Following Poppy seemed with them to be a sort of habit, a pleasant enough way of spending an evening.

In the club house locker room the next evening David met his bachelor acquaintance who had led him to the dances. "Seems you were rather taken with Poppy," commented the acquaintance, lighting his pipe.

"Yes, Gale, you mean?" answered David correctly. "By love, but she is charming. Apparently half the men at the club are mad about her."

"Oh, well," drawled the acquaintance. "Poppy's a nice girl—plenty of pep and a good dancer—"

"Funny someone doesn't marry her," commented David, "or at least get engaged to her?"

"Oh, well," again drawled the acquaintance. "Poppy's all right, but she's got her failings like the rest of them. You've only met her once. Wait till you know her better."

Thus challenged David went to work to know Poppy better with his usual directness. He devoted himself to her at the next dance asked to call, received permission, made a formal first call and then asked for permission to play golf with her the following Saturday morning. But Poppy said she didn't play golf. She said she didn't have time in fact Saturday she was going to be dreadfully busy with a rummage sale.

The rummage sale, she explained was for the old men's home in which she was intensely interested. She wondered if David had some old clothes he would let her have for the sale, and when he eagerly offered his entire wardrobe she wondered whether he would help her collect the things next Saturday morning instead of playing golf. He could come in his car and they would rum around together. David was delighted and from regarding her as a woodland nymph he now regarded her as a sort of up-to-date St. Elizabeth as well. He even helped with the rummage sale, all Saturday afternoon, and came away dusty and exhausted but blissful to have been so much with Poppy. The next time David called on Poppy she told him of her interest in a fresh-air home for city children.

She was trying to get a sand pile for them. She wanted, she wondered, whether she would mind motoring down to the seashore and bringing back his car full of it.

Then she asked him to solicit the men in the club for donations for another favorite charity, and later at a dance she told him that she would accept his invitation to go to the shore with him the following week if he would help her by money to furnish a ward in the children's hospital.

One midsummer day David's acquaintance called upon him just before dinner; David looked fagged. "Haven't seen you at the club for weeks," said the acquaintance with a grin. "Given up golf?"

"Oh, I haven't had time," sighed David. "And I'm going to ask you to come out in the dining room with me while we talk. I've only fifteen minutes. I've promised Poppy to arrange the books in the library at the settlement house tonight and she wants me to call for her at seven."

"Hum-m," drawled the acquaintance. "Poppy certainly knows how to dance—but—" "But what?" snapped the weary David. "Of course she's got her hobbies like all the other girls. And I haven't spent the summer just as I intended to. But I'll tell you a secret. I've been proposing to Poppy on condition that she wouldn't expect me to run on rails way after we were married. She was furious—but after a while she relented. Then I asked her whether she'd have me if I agreed to found a sort of a trust fund for her charities—so she could hire someone to do the things that I've been doing. She thought fifty thousand dollars would do, and I'm game. She said she felt that otherwise she couldn't marry me, because so long as she didn't I'd probably be a bachelor and probably willing to do these things for her, and if she married me then she would be robbing all the clubs and hospitals and things that she's interested in."

"Hum-m," commented the acquaintance. "She's a nice girl—Poppy."

RIVER GROVE

River Grove's bank opens, Dec. 11th, $500 in cash will be divided to depositors on the opening day.

Miss Imogene McNathin has just returned from a week's vacation at her home in Lincoln, Ill. Incidentally she attended the Illinois-Ohio football game at Urbana.

Jacob Nielsen & Sons have the foundation ready for their new office and factory on school street for the manufacture of their famous mid-west cement blocks. It will be 58x72 feet built of their smooth face white cement blocks.

The application for a hospital to be erected in River Forest at Division street was refused by the Zoning Appeal Board. River Forest must be protected from encroachments which would tend to make this district less desirable, they said.

We hope that the practical joker who sent in the news concerning Mr. and Mrs. A. Swets derives as much embarrassment from it as we have. We assure the Swets that it was through no fault of the editor that the mistake happened.

Through the efforts of Harry Norton, crushed stone has been spread on Hessing and Budd streets with very little expense to the village. There are other influential citizens who might utilize their energy by doing something like Harry has done for River Grove.

Miss Harriett Ellen Keeney, now a senior in the U of C was one of the first coeds to receive the coveted invitation to the military ball held in honor of the Army-Navy football teams at the Drake hotel. The invitation was extended by a West Point cadet.

Advertising to the extent of $5,000,000 will be used in 1927 to educate the public in building better small houses. Mr. Moore, president of the Home Builders association in his survey of the western suburbs says, that 1927 will be the biggest year in the history of the construction of small houses.

One man is dead and 2 seriously injured as a result of a collision with the C. M. & St. P. Arrow limited at Grand avenue. The machine in which they were riding was totally demolished. Witnesses say that the driver failed to beat the arrow at the crossing and smashed into the side of the locomotive as it sped by.

Mr. Arthur Micoudel has contracted for the erection of a three story building to consist of two stores and 17 apartments on North avenue. From the plans and specifications it is evident that this will be one of the finest buildings ever built on North avenue. He expects to have it ready for occupancy by April 30, 1927.

Recently a meeting was held in the Oak Park village hall representing all the towns both north and south on Harlem avenue in the interest of a bridge over Harlem avenue at the canal. The estimated cost of the bridge is $1,700,000; however, without direct conjunction the great Harlem avenue highway would not be complete.

Friends of Mr. Fred Fisher were shocked Sunday morning when they heard of the sad accident that had resulted in his death about 2 a. m. when the box car where he made his home caught fire in some unknown manner and burned up causing the death of Mr. Fisher. It will never be known how the fire started but presumably from an overheated stove. Mr. Fisher better known as "Bud" had many friends who will miss his genial disposition. Some 12 years ago he was hotel manager here and well known by the railroad men on the Soo line having been manager of the hotel at Abbottsford, Wis., 25 years ago the body was removed to Sax & Tiedemann undertaking parlors at Franklin Park and then shipped to Waukesha for burial.

HIGGINS-CANFIELD

Wm. Bloesing purchased a new Hudson Brougham last week. The mother of Wm. Buckholz died Friday and was buried Monday by Pastor Roehrs.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Anderson was baptized by Rev. P. W. Roehrs Sunday.

Mrs. A. Sachtleben, who is visiting her sick father at Hoylston, Ill., writes that he is still critically ill.

Mrs. Fastert, mother of Mrs. Charles Rowlett, died at a Chicago hospital Friday. She had been operated for cancer, but it proved fatal. Her body was sent to Arkansas where she resided.

Wm. Goebel has decided to quit business in Edison Park. He intends to go to the south where he will open a similar business. He is selling out all of the stock he has on hand at a great reduction.

A new brick bungalow is being built in the Park Ridge subdivision just opposite Wm. Bloesings. We are looking forward to next spring when many homes will be started. Undoubtedly this will bring many desirable citizens into our neighborhood.

Reducing our prices below Chicago standards in all high class work.

BETTY BARCLAY'S WEEKLY RECIPE

An unusual dish, served to guests, always creates more favorable comment than the most elaborate pie, pudding, stew or meat dish made from a well-known recipe.

The unusual dish may be easily prepared and be very economical, yet because it is unusual and tasty it proves pleasing to an extreme.

Here is a recipe that may be tried at any time.

Baked Potatoes with Bacon
4 potatoes.
6 slices bacon, fried crisp, and chopped.

Select medium sized potatoes. Scrub thoroughly. Cut a slice from each end and bake in a hot oven until soft. Cut in halves and scoop out the insides, taking care not to break the shells. Mash with a fork and mix lightly with the bacon. Season with a little pepper. Salt, if required. Refill the shells. Return to the oven for five minutes to reheat and serve immediately.

WHAT SHALL I GIVE?
We worry over the annual Christmas gift problem, but what about the Queen of Sheba who was obliged to decide upon suitable gifts for King Solomon and his seven hundred wives?

Of course, these were not Christmas gifts, but, nevertheless, they were gifts—and they must please. So Queen Sheba loaded her camels with spices, gold and precious stones—and history asserts she found pleasure in the sight of the wise King.

Human nature has not changed a great deal. Sweet smelling essences may have taken the place of spices in milady's heart, but gold and precious stones still reign supreme, while jewels, silver, cut glass—anything that adorns person or home—are acceptable gifts for both men and women.

The gift that lasts is the gift that causes the recipient to think kindly most often of the giver. So purchase the lasting, dainty, handsome gift—not necessarily expensive—and you will choose wisely.

King Ferdinand must have been reading about the wrestling matches on the royal train, and it is evidently his intention to get the queen out of the clinches by Christmas.

WOODDALE

Walter Finke is driving a new Tudor Sedan.

Mrs. Fred Mess of Bloomingdale was in Wooddale Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoppenstaedt Jr., of Chicago spent Sunday in Wooddale.

Art Knapp has returned from his hunting trip down at Beardstown.

Ernest Kleppner has been matched to wrestle young Fischer at the Broadway Armory, Dec. 15. He is training hard for this match, which undoubtedly will be the toughest one of his career.

Paul Dammeier won the electric floor lamp, Mrs. T. S. Parish and Mr. E. Mess took the cakes and Mrs. Christ Bleich brought home the bacon from the carnival and bazaar Saturday night. The affair proved to be the largest of any kind ever held in Wooddale.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Shipley of Chicago were week-end guests of the William Keller family Saturday and Sunday, and attended the carnival.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Nielsen, of Chicago, attended the carnival Saturday night.

The Wooddale Community Club, in addition to the list published last week, wishes to thank the following who co-operated so splendidly in making their Carnival and Bazaar a success:

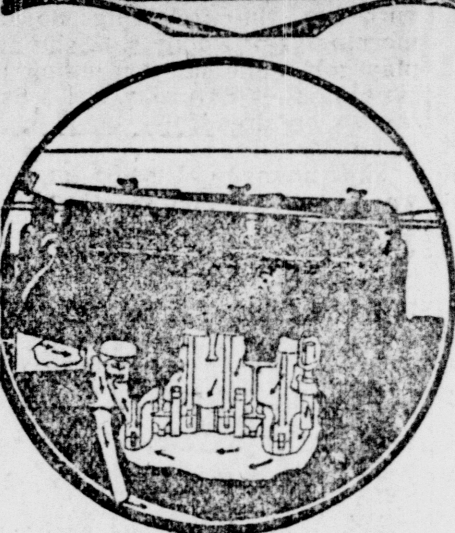

Mrs. Bartholomay, Beauty Shop A. C. Dahl.
W. F. Duntzman
Max Fenske
Joe Jankers
William Koebelman
Walter Lauman
all of Bensenville, and further want to thank those who attended

No Engine Fumes in Buick Closed Cars!

In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car.

This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious odors. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation.

The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. With it, crankcase vapors have no opportunity to condense and dilute the oil.

Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year.

For luxury, and for economy, own a Buick.

While at play at school last Friday he accidentally fell breaking the arm in two places. Sympathy of many friends is extended to the injured lad and all will welcome the day when he can return to school.

The C. M. & St. P. Women's second annual ball given in Social hall at Bensenville Saturday night was one grand success. About 400 people tripped the light fantastic until 1 a. m. when all departed home all voicing the same opinion that Bensenville people can surely put on a dance worth while. The club ladies had secured paper caps on which they had placed the Milwaukee Railroad Monogram and they sure showed up fine as the dancers walked around the floor.

Every department of the road was represented. Supt. Whiting, Asst. Supt. Valentine, all the terminal train masters as well as officers of the mechanical department took an active part in making the affair the success that it was. McCain's Music Masters of Mont Clare kept the dancers on the floor continually. This was a pleasing feature as the crowd was so large that all would not attempt to dance at once.

Don't fail to attend the December meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday evening, Dec. 14. A fine program has been arranged, one of the features of which will be a playlet given by the pupils of the third grade. The board of managers has worked out a plan whereby we expect to be able to seat everybody comfortably at this and future meetings. Children are not supposed to attend the P. T. A. meetings unless accompanied by their parents, but children who cannot be left at home may accompany parents and will be well cared for and entertained.

A special feature of this meeting will be a Parcel Post sale. Everyone is requested to bring a package of ten or fifteen cent value which will be sold at the sale.

The new heating plant at Center theatre is now in working order and the house is now quite comfortable.

SCOUT NEWS

Park Ridge. A great deal of interest was centered around the picture Rin Tin Tin shown at the Ridge theatre, the proceeds of which will go to troops 1 and 3 who were the sponsors. The money will be used to buy fuel and other troop necessities. Troop 2 held their usual snappy meeting Friday evening under the direction of Mr. Allen Towns, Swanson and Williams. The feature of the evening's program was the display of pictures showing the various kinds of knots that can be used and tied. Definite arrangements are being formulated in Park Ridge by Mr. Landane the Scout Executive to place men on the troop committees who will function at all times and can give some of their spare time to help out over the Scouting Program. Both Rev. Edmonson and Rev. Spangler and Mr. Johnson have consented to do all they can to help out over the proposition.

Des Plaines

A meeting of all of the Scoutmasters, their assistants and Senior Patrol Leaders from the entire Council District was held at the High School Dining room last Thursday evening. The meeting was presided over by a real dinner which was well prepared by Mrs. Jicnke. Mr. Bevans, President of the N. W. Suburban Council spoke to the men, outlining general policies and hoped that the men would follow the suggestions offered in order that the Council might make the progress that is desired. He also asked the men to co-operate in every respect in putting over Boy's Life magazine, which means a great deal not only to the advancement of Scouting, but provides for any boy an ideal Christmas gift. Mr. Craton, the Scout Commissioner outlined the various duties of the officials of the troops pointing out that the Scoutmaster should not be carrying the big load, but that the work should be distributed between the Troop Committees who are responsible for the troop and his assistants. Mr. Landane the Executive outlined in detail methods of keeping accurate record of the boy's advancement and in general outlined policies that if carried out, would aid the scoutmasters and troops throughout the district. The men all felt well repaid for the time spent together. The first scout in the district to score on selling Boy's Life is Geo. Blewett, having sold three subscriptions, and from reports coming in it looks as though the sales will run into the hundreds. Mr. Bevans the president is offering a handsome prize to the boy who sells the greatest number.

Troop 6 and troop 5 held a hike in the Forest Preserve on Saturday and a good number of cooking tests were passed. Baked apples, potatoes and apples making a feast for a king was on the menu. Football was played as part of the recreation period. All present report a good time.

Arlington Heights

Dr. Best gave another one of his valuable talks to the boys in troop 7. He gave a demonstration of the various methods to use in artificial respiration and several new suggestions on bandaging. It is this individual cooperation by men of Dr. Best's type that make the scouting program worth while and which tends to build it up to a high standard. Mr. Craton, the scout commissioner and Mr. Landane, scout executive, were present.

Palatine

There has been no news received from Palatine excepting that the troop has taken another step forward towards the Rally Banner and is now leading by a comfortable margin. Palatine slogan is "Try and catch us."

Barrington

The first Court of Honor in the district was held in Barrington Monday evening, the 6th. Members of the Court of Honor who were present, are Mr. Schroeder, Mr. Hawley, Mr. Cadawaller, Mr. Craton Commissioner, and Mr. Landane the Scout Executive. After some questioning awards were given to the following scouts, Howard Ernst and Willard Gieske. First Class Badges, and Burnell Landwer 17 merit badges including the Rank of Life Scout. Owing to his continuous efforts to forge ahead Mr. Dobson felt that he should be awarded the Senior Patrol Leader's badge, which he received at the hands of Mr. Dobson. This means added responsibility and we are sure that Burnell will make good. The next rally will be held in Park Ridge, and every scoutmaster should begin at once to train his teams for the various contests in order that they may participate properly in all events. The scores for this week are as follows:

Troop No.	Points
Palatine	940
Park Ridge	665
Arlington Heights	655
Park Ridge	460
Barrington	440
Des Plaines	415
Park Ridge	400
Des Plaines	325
Arlington Heights	220

Leading scouts: Alvin Sherner, Palatine 85 points, Edward Prickett Des Plaines 85 points.

Highest ranking scout Burnell Landwer, Barrington (Life Scout).

THE FELLOW WHO DOESN'T SIGNAL

One of the worst menaces on our highways today is the driver who starts away from the sidewalk curb into traffic without giving a signal. These drivers do not mean to be rude. They are simply careless. A careful driver will always look to see if another car is coming before turning the nose of his automobile into traffic. Statistics show that many serious accidents reported to the police and Registrars of motor vehicles are caused by drivers failing to give a signal when turning on a highway or starting away from a curb.

You probably class yourself as a careful driver, but you are not one if you do not observe all the rules of a gentleman driver and one is in giving signals in the proper time and in a manner that will leave no doubt in the mind of the operator behind you what you intend to do. Most signals today are given in a meaningless manner. A shake down towards the ground when you intend to stop. When giving hand signals make them so that there can be no misunderstanding by the driver immediately behind you.

TRY THIS

Did you ever go to your home merchant with a nice long order list filled out, for your winter's canned goods, etc? Take along your check book. When you give him the list ask him to total it up and fill out a check for it all. If every family in this community would do this there would not be a mail order to go out of this place. We will do that for the mail order house in Chicago or Kansas City, not the local merchant, who may live next door to us, who boasts every movement to make our city better, and contributes to everything from cleaning streets to support the town band. Chicago gets the cream and the local merchant the skim milk. We don't give home merchants a square deal. Make out a long list of your needs for winter, pay the cash when you hand him your list and see how much better off we'll be.

WEAKNESS OF GREAT

Present day writers who are devoting their talent to calling attention to weaknesses and bad habits of such characters as

Washington, Jefferson, Franklin and others are not only uncovering the flaws in their own characters but are failing to make their articles interesting. Men of great virtues usually have faults that are just as glaring. They are often intemperate but the world usually forgives and forgets their weaknesses while they are respected and honored for their achievements. Writers who can find no other subjects to write about than short comings of such characters will not detract from their greatness in the least, but will create the impression that they themselves are little for giving thought to such matters.

Good Time now to Select Hens for Breeding Pen

This is a good time to select hens for the breeding pen and rest them for a month or so, H. H. Alp, poultry extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, points out. These breeding hens will be the nucleus for next year's flock and the best of care is none too good for them, he added.

The way to rest the breeding hens is to take them off their mash ration and place them on a feed of grain only. With plenty of grain and fresh water they will rest and build up their bodies after their year's work of laying. They may be put in a small colony house by themselves where they can have fresh range and left there until about the first or the middle of December.

After that time they should again be fed a laying mash, the idea being to promote egg production. The birds will be strong in vitality and health and when mated to strong vigorous males will give the best of hatching eggs. The chicks hatched from these eggs should be superior to any hatched from eggs laid by pullets or hens that have been forced for production.

Along with these points the poultryman must not forget that the personal factor is a big item in the success of any phase of the poultry business, Alp pointed out. If the flock owner does not practice a definite sanitation system, for instance, and be systematic in the attention which he gives the flock all his other work will be in vain. The hen is one of the most exacting taskmasters there is, he said.

EAST MAINE

John E. Kath has traded in his Graham Brothers motor truck for a new Dodge sedan.

August Geweke attended the meeting of the Illinois Farmers Institute held at the Stock show in Chicago, Nov. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil W. Bergman entertained relatives and friends at a little party at their home Saturday evening. The following evening Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jaacks were host and hostess to practically the same crowd. The occasion for both parties were birthday anniversaries which accounts for the delightful time had by all present.

Mrs. Wm. Wilke, whom it was last week reported was suffering from a heart attack, is still ill but slowly improving.

Leo Jaacks suffered severe internal injuries last Friday when he slipped and fell while placing a load on his truck. A doctor's diagnosis ascertained that two ligaments on his back were torn but whether or not any further breaks had resulted, could not be disclosed without the aid of an X-ray and the condition of the injured man would not permit his being removed to a hospital to have such pictures taken for sometime. Leo's many friends are wishing him a successful recovery.

Mrs. Henry Goettsche entertained at luncheon in honor of her birthday anniversary Dec. 7. The guests braved the disagreeable weather to attend and all enjoyed the evening.

A delicious birthday luncheon topped off the affair in a pleasing manner.

Remember the dance the East Maine Pleasure Club is giving at John Mueller's hall, Saturday, Dec. 11. Marquette Orchestra will furnish music and everything will be done to help all who attend have a grand and glorious time.

The members of St. Matthews Lutheran choir celebrated their 14th anniversary Dec. 3 with a dinner and party afterward in St. Matthews school hall. This is an annual affair and one looked forward to with great anticipation by the members of the choir. A five course dinner was served amid seasonable decorations of red and white, and enjoyed by all. Well, rather. Later on games and contests of various kinds were employed, testing the skill and good nature of the crowd. Every one had such a good time that midnight came all too soon and warned them that it was time for the party to break up. But next year will see another such affair, in the terms of the choir called, "gemuetlichen abend", and there another good time awaits the members. An invigorating is extended to all young folks of the congregation to join as members of the choir. Join now, why wait any longer.

OUR NEWS LETTER ### FROM THE CAPITOL

This is a time of mourning and regret in the Senate, because of the retirement in the near future of those who failed at the polls. Senators Butler and Williams do not have to go through this, inasmuch as their appointments were only until their successors were elected, and their service ceased on Nov. 2, election day. There will be quite a number, however, on the mourners bench who will be obliged to sit through till March 4, to complete their legal terms.

Vice President Davis seems to have entered on his labors with a greater urbanity of feeling. The Senate now and then likes to take a dig at General, but it is not to be denied that he has increased his friendships with those over whom he presides. They are not disposed to let him have the run of the field yet, but they have considerably lengthened the tether rope with which they are holding him.

Speaker Longworth on the House side was made the object of a veritable ovation. He apparently is one of those fortunate men who possess the ability of mixing geniality, good fellowship and administrative efficiency, in such ratio as make for a happy and effective family. The Senate has a calendar so crowded with measures which actually require prompt action that Senator Curtis will have his skill and wit tested to the limit taking care of the work at hand.

As to the Volstead law, the Democratic party has as many visions as it has members. Even on the matter of its presidential nomination, one group is demanding the nomination of "Al" Smith and threatening dissolution of the party if that fails, while another group is carrying the McAdoo banner. In Maryland there is and always will be the Ritchie boom, and in Missouri, the conclusion has been reached that Jim Reed's retirement from the Senate was to enable him also to enter for the nomination.

As a matter of record, the following statement of the political condition of the Congress which met Dec. 6 and the Congress which comes into being March 4, 1927, may prove of interest. In the Congress which met Dec. 6, in the Senate there were 53 Republicans, 42 Democrats, and 1 Farmer Labor. In the House there were 247 Republicans, 182 Democrats, three Farmer Labor, and 2 Socialists. There is also one vacancy in the 12th Illinois District owing to the death of Charles E. Fuller.

The 70th Congress which begins March 4, 1927, will have the following political status, in the Senate 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and 1 Farmer Labor. In the House 238 Republicans, 194 Democrats, 2 Farmer Labor, and 1 Socialist.

Highways nearly long enough to circle the earth have been constructed during 1925-26 by the highways departments of the Federal government and the several States. Approximately $463,000,000 is being spent for road work. Between 30,000 and 40,000 miles of surfaced roads have been built each year since 1921. Under the Federal Aid Act, the total cost of highways completed up to July 1, 1923, was $549,655,990 of which the Federal government paid $237,852,000. These highways are 32,482 miles long.

Projects completed since July 1, 1924, cost $44,700,000 of which the Federal government paid $21,291,000. The length of this section of highway is 2,643 miles.

The annual expenses of the Federal government now approximate about $3,000,000,000 a very large sum of money; but some fifteen billions less than 1918. Of this annual budget, the three largest items are: $865,000,000 for interest on the public debt; $550,000,000 for the sinking fund; $344,000,000 for the army; $338,000,000 for the navy; $217,000,000 for Civil and Spanish war pensions. The balance goes for ordinary expenses of the three branches of the Federal government with the many Commissions, Bureau and independent establishments.

The annual expenditures of the Federal government now, in peace times is approximately three times what it was before the World War. Several new taxes have appeared in both houses as the result of recent elections. As usual, the newcomers endeavor to obtain places on important committee, but here they find the rule of seniority in service a barrier to their hopes. A man's importance in political affairs in Washington is usually measured by his appointment to committees and his rank in these groups is fixed accordingly.

The budget message of the President is second only in importance to the President's annual message, for it gives an accounting of government receipts and expenditures as well as proposals for appropriations to cover the fiscal year of 1927. The budget report shows that the actual expenditures, including reduction of the public debt, in the fiscal year 1926 amounts to $6,586,987,873.50. It was only a few years ago that it was considered the height of extravagance when the Federal Government spent a billion dollars. The estimate for 1927 is slightly higher, but savings are expected for 1928. The President has suggested a temporary tax measure, and makes it clear that conditions do not warrant a permanent tax reduction plan.

Perhaps King Ferdinand wants Queen Marie to hurry home and attend to the Christmas shopping. It's only so many days, etc.

Really People's Bank

Napoleon I headed the list of stockholders, with 30 shares in his name, when the Bank of France was founded in February, 1800. It was constituted in the form of a joint stock company, with a capital of 30,000,000 francs, at that time about $6,000,000. The Bank of France differs from other central banks in that it deals with private individuals. It makes loans as small as $1 and the law requires it to do so. In an ordinary year before the World War the institution made 247,735 loans in sums not more than $2 and of the 8,909,000 separate bills discounted at Paris in one year, 4,304,000 were for amounts less than $20, says the Albany News. It is the bank of the people. Peasants and millionaires look upon it as their own.

Literary Love Adventures

A love adventure in story form is guaranteed to be complete in itself, to be over when it is finished and to leave behind it nothing but a pleasant memory in the reader's mind.

In all these ways it differs from a love adventure in reality, concerning which no such safe guarantees can be offered. We try to live orderly lives, and while the love adventures of reality may upset the well-considered plans of a lifetime, the other kind leaves everything exactly as it was.

The heroine may swoon with ecstasy in your arms tonight; but she will not call you up on the telephone in the morning or write you passionate and compromising letters.

The Mind Awakened

Whatever arouses and awakens the mind, and causes it to forget itself and generously give its attention to matters outside itself—that is education. Whatever stirs it from its sleep or its indolence or its prejudice or its timidity or its indifference—that is education. Whatever "leads it out" into new fields and broader interests and opens up larger vistas—that is education. Whatever makes it keenly aware: whatever makes it conscious of its own powers and inspires it to use them; whatever encourages it or calls to it to exercise them—that is education.—Woman's Home Companion.

"The Car from Home"

Wins a Buyer and an Admirer in Nevada

Regardless of where we roam, there is no place like home and the farther we get away from home the greater boosters we become for the home town.

In the spring of this year, P. C. Weller, a traveling salesman, happened to be in Reno, Nevada. Strolling down the main street, he saw a car that he had never seen before, being driven toward him. When the car came to a stop, he examined the car and was startled to see "Pontiac" on the nameplate, with an Indian and as radiator cap emblem.

"Is that car made in Pontiac, Mich.?" he asked the driver.

"This is a new car, the Pontiac Six, made in Pontiac, Mich., by the Oakland Motor Car Company," replied the driver. "It's the first of these cars to be delivered to any dealer in the state of Nevada."

"Say, I'm from Pontiac, Mich.," state Mr. Weller, a warmth of local pride surging up, "and if that car is made in Pontiac, it's a good car. Sell it to me now and I will take it."

"A check was signed and turned over to the dealer (who was driving the car) and Mr. Weller drove off. Last week he returned to Pontiac, Mich., to enter the real estate business and incidentally visited the Oakland factories with his Pontiac car the speedometer showing a roving of 18,000 miles.

Mr. Weller related that he had to travel throughout the entire western section of the country as a salesman from his headquarters in Portland, Ore. The extent of his travels and the types of roads he traversed may be gleaned from the fact that twice he was in Mexico, twice in British Columbia, Can., up and down the entire length of the Pacific highway, across the Sierra Nevada Mountains, eight times, numerous trips over the Cascade Mountains and across the Rocky Mountains once.

The highest elevation the car reached was at Steamboat Springs, near Denver, a height of 11,548 feet above sea level, yet this and other high elevations had no effect whatsoever on the operation of the engine, Mr. Weller stated. During the entire trip the pan was never taken off the motor car nor any repairs made, save the replacing of two original tires at Denver on the trip to Pontiac, Mich.

"I'll tell the world anything made in Pontiac is good and if my trip didn't prove it, I don't know what could," finished Mr. Weller, still the native son with pride—regardless of where he roamed.

Win a Christmas Prize!!

December 6 to 11 inclusive we will receive suggestions at our stores and give you the opportunity to win a valuable Christmas Present, for yourself.

We want your ideas as to how we can improve our service to you, both in the store and on our delivery, or whatever you see, think needs improvement in our service.

Get out your pencil and write your suggestion now. Bring it to the store the week of December 6th, and it may be that you have been well repaid in one of the prizes we offer for your services.

Three judges will select the winners, who will be notified through the proper course and be requested to call for their prizes.

This suggestion plan is open to everybody, excepting our employees and their families who will not participate in any of the prizes.

Tell us in plain every day fashion where we are lack and what needs improvement. You have ideas, use them now to your advantage.

We have prepared receptacles in our stores which will not be opened until after the stores close on Saturday night. Present as many suggestions as you wish. Every one will be considered.

Drop your suggestions for each store in their proper places so we know what store you have in mind.

Come on, one and all. Let's improve our merchandising in Mount Prospect.

The campaign on "better teeth" started Tuesday. The Prophylactic brush company sent us a fine large chart, at the top of which is written, "Brush your teeth twice a day," and the inscription at the bottom is, "A clean tooth never decays."
Five tooth paste companies sent us literature and samples. They are Colgate, Fortans, Ipana, Pebecco and Pepsodent companies.
The Colgate Company also sent us two large pictures of teeth, one a good tooth and the other a decayed tooth. Both are on the bulletin board, with the chart and directions for brushing and caring for the teeth.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Pettis read a dental lecture written by R. M. Bennett, D. D. S. Children of the fifth grade, who are studying the structure of teeth in their regular hygiene lesson, were given booklets on "Tooth Truths," and a very pretty illustrated story book, "The Tines that Live in a Tube." These books were given by our local dentist, Dr. J. P. O'Connell, to help us in our Better-Teeth Campaign.

Bishop Has Honor as London's Patron Saint

One of the earliest bishops of London was St. Erkenwald, whose "festival" occurred recently. He was a Londoner born and bred, so it was only fitting that shortly after his death, which took place in 663, he should be acclaimed London's patron saint.

St. Erkenwald restored the first St. Paul's cathedral, and was buried within its walls. In 1163 London was partly destroyed by a great fire that burned old London bridge and a portion of the cathedral, but stopped at his shrine. Pious folks professed to regard this as a miraculous intervention of the dead saint and from thence on his tomb became a place of pilgrimage.

Many of them brought rare and costly gifts, so that in course of time Erkenwald's magnificent tomb was ablaze with precious stones.—Chicago Journal.

Under an Assumed Name

By H. IRVING KING

They met on the steamer going over. J. Percy was tall, roist, athletic, clear-eyed, clear skinned; he was a good thing to look at and the women set down his age at about five years older than Penelope.

J. Percy was down on the passenger list as hailing from New Orleans; Miss Woffenden as coming from New York. None of the New Yorkers on board knew her, but New York is a big place and, as Penelope casually remarked at tea one day, she really knew but very little about New York, though she claimed her residence there, having spent most of her time since the death of her parents on a ranch she had in the West, or in traveling almost. She spoke familiarly, but not obtrusively, though, of the "very best" people in the very highest circles of American and European society.

In the smoking room J. Percy could talk familiarly of yachting and steeple chasing, of tennis and golf, and, if he was drawn out, would add acquaintance with some exceedingly well-known and important persons. But Percy was not in the smoking room much—he was generally in attendance upon Miss Woffenden. They had maneuvered their steamer chairs side by side and used to sit and talk and gaze upon the heaving sea.

So matters went on until the steamer was in midocean. Then came a wireless message, over the seas and through the air, to the captain of the ship informing him that a notorious swindler was thought to have sailed in his vessel under an assumed name and with "faked" passports. So much leaked out. When the news spread through the ship Winters was sitting as usual beside Miss Woffenden. One of the ship's officers came to where he was sitting and said: "The captain would like to speak to you in his cabin, sir."

Then there was a sensation. In less time than it takes to five, almost—the news was broadcast that J. Percy Winters had been summoned to the captain's cabin. So he was the fugitive swindler, was he? People loitering about the door of the captain's cabin, and trying vainly to look as if they were there by accident, heard Percy remark as he came out: "I was rather afraid of this. However, it can't be helped now." That settled it! Winters stopped to hand in a message to the wireless operator and then rejoined Miss Woffenden.

"So," said Penelope, "you are a dangerous character, are you? Honestly, Mr. Winters, you don't look it."

"Suppose I were a—what these women have evidently been telling you I am; would it make any difference to our friendship?" he replied.

"Pray, don't press me too closely on such a delicate point, Mr. Winters," said she. "I may as well confide to you that I myself am not exactly what I seem. But let's change the subject." An acid-faced man in clerical dress went by and looked at the couple askance—Rev. Caleb Mahan, going out as missionary to the Celebes. "His reverence does not seem to approve of us," remarked Penelope.

Great was the scandal at the continued intimacy of Miss Woffenden with the condemned Winters. It was decided that she was an adventuress with whom he had fled, and that they would both be arrested upon the arrival of the ship at Havre. When the steamer arrived at Havre and the boat came off from shore, sure enough—there was a sergeant of gendarmes and two of his men on her deck. All the passengers crowded around to see the adventurers put in handcuffs, making a little open space in which Percy and Penelope stood alone, but the sergeant was right by and clapped the "bracelets" on the wrists of Rev. Caleb Mahan, missionary to the Celebes—alias Slippery Dick. Everybody felt swindled at such an anticlimax.

"And pray, Miss Woffenden," said Percy a little later at the hotel, "why was it that you took it for granted I was not the fugitive from justice everybody supposed me?"

"O, simple enough," replied Penelope. "As soon as I became—er—interested in you I wirelessly to New Orleans and found out all about you. You see, I am in the customs service and make my bread and butter by taking trips abroad to look after ladies with smuggling tendencies."

"But weren't you curious to know why the captain called me into his cabin?" he asked. "Yes," she replied, "and I asked him, and he told me. You had a business appointment to keep in Paris, and before you sailed the captain assured you we would go in in a time for you to keep it. He called you in to tell you that, because of unforeseen delays, you would not be able to make it."

Miss Penelope Woffenden, whose real name was Mary Robinson, visited several European capitals in the discharge of her duties, and every capital she visited she was sure to run against Percy Winters. She is no longer in the customs service, but as Mrs. J. Percy Winters lives in the South, where her husband is a prominent cotton broker.

It is to be hoped that we shall always have a few artists in words; otherwise we shall soon have an English language which will be as inferior to the English of the best writers as the Greek of Lucian is to the Greek of Plato. We have a glorious language, which, in the hands of Milton or Burke, is one of the grandest instruments of human speech; but, like everything else, it needs keeping in repair, especially in a bustling age when everyone reads and writes in a hurry.—William Ralph Inge, in "Lay Thoughts of a Dean."

the ordinance for the same being on file in the office of the Village Clerk, having applied to the County court of the Cook county for an assessment of the cost of said improvement according to benefits, and an assessment therefore having been made and returned to said court, the final hearing thereon to be had on the 20th day of December, 1926, or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit.

All persons desiring may file objections in said court before said day and may appear on the hearing and make their defense.

Dated this 2nd day of December, 1926.
(SIGNED) JOHN DILG, JR., Commissioner.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Local Improvements of the Village of Glenview have filed their Certificates of Completion in the following local improvements: Special Assessment No. 21—Providing for a system of sidewalks and streets as follows: Deves Street, Henley Street, and other streets.

Special Assessment No. 25—Providing for construction of water main in Henley street.

Special Assessment No. 26—Providing for construction of sewer in Henley Street.

together with applications requesting the court to consider whether all the facts stated in the certificates are true, and that a day be fixed for a hearing thereon, as provided by law; that the County Court has set the 20th day of December, 1926, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M. in the County Court of Cook County, as the Return Day on which the Court shall decide whether or not the improvements above conform substantially to the requirements of the original ordinances.

All persons desiring may file objections to the confirmation of the certificates before the time set for the hearing.

L. W. COONS, Secretary of the Board of Local Improvements of the Village of Glenview.

MASTERY AND CHANCERY SALE

A Mastery and Chancery sale will be held on Monday, Dec. 13, in the forenoon at 11 o'clock at the judicial sales room in the city of Chicago, Real estate board, 2nd floor, 57 W. Monroe St., Chicago, Ill., selling at public auction, lots 3, 4 and 5 in Kliner subdivision, Northbrook, one block from depot. Sale will be held by Wm. A. Doyle, master in chancery, court of Cook County and will be sold to the highest bidder for cash. The property is on Walter Ave., Main St., in Northbrook, 1 block west of depot.

Ancient Free Libraries

The free library is not an exclusively modern institution. There are proofs of the fact that Nineveh possessed a public library consisting of 6000 distinct works on tablets of clay. There were Egyptian libraries 2000 years before Christ, and at a later period the library at Alexandria was world-famous.

It was in 1852 that the first free library in England was opened at Manchester. Dickens, Thackeray, Bulwer-Lytton and Monckton Milnes, afterward Lord Houghton, were among the speakers at the opening ceremony.
